About Us

We are a few guys who have worked in car sales for many years. The reason we have come together to offer you our unique services is because firstly, we are sick and tired of working 14 hour days, 6 days a week for a measly wage, while the dealership owner is getting fat and rich.

We figured that for a small fee, and it is small considering the money you will save, we can help you get a great deal and save you thousands of dollars. This will mean less profits for the fat-cat dealers, BIG savings for you and we get to spend more quality time with our families.

Our Mission: To deliver superior products and services that empower our customers to dramatically save money when they buy a car.

Our Team: We employ only the best professionals. Our team has collected great analysts each having degrees in areas of responsibility as well as 8 to 20 years of professional experience. We are happy to embody our inventive ideas into optimal solutions for our customers using the most relevant information and technologies.

Everything is simple here: 1. We provide high quality solutions 2. We do the job on time 3. We fit within your budget. 4. We will save you a ton of money.
